

Chemical Exchange Imaging

Image showing the difference between + and - 150 Hz irradiation saturation effects in a normal volunteer kidney. Using controlled saturation experiments, selective metabolite MRI becomes possible.